BENJAMIN F. BITTINGER, Stated Clerk.

The Stated Clerk reported that a certified copy of the Minutes of the Stated Meeting of 1899 had been sent to the General Assembly, and that they had been approved by that body, without exception.

NARRATIVE.

The Committee presented the following which was approved:

What a man may see as he looks at a certain object does not depend entirely upon the object or the atmosphere through which the given object is viewed. Something in the looker gives color and form to his judgment. One of the narratives placed in the hands of your committee says that "The Presbytery regrets that it cannot report greater prosperity in its churches. They are under the influence of that partial spiritual dearth that overspreads the whole church of all denominations. We fear that the world has gotten into the church to an alarming extent, and the Holy Spirit is aggrieved. The Lord's Day is not honored and sacredly kept by many in our churches. The spirit of worldliness exerts a deadly influence outside, and we fear has a devitalizing effect upon the church itself."

Another says there is much to encourage and call to thankfulness. If we are looking for the things which will discourage us, or appear to be dark, as we pass in review the work of the past year, we can certainly find them. If, on the other hand we are in search of the things for which we may be thankful, and from which to take fresh courage for greater fidelity in the future, these things can be found, and found in goodly numbers.

In summing up the results of the past year's work within the bounds of our Synod, we must confess that we are at a loss for the want of definite data. The general conclusions which are drawn must be largely a matter of inference, and colored to a great extent by the wish of our minds or the desire of our own hearts. Because of this fact our report cannot be other than unsatisfactory, to none will it be more so than to your committee itself.

Preaching services have been held in almost all our churches during the year. There are but two exceptions to be noted to this statement, in rural districts where adverse circumstances, uncontrollable, are tending to a total destruction, or cessation of life.

Most of our churches have two services on the Lord's Day at which the attendance is reported as good. One Presbytery reports that the children and youth are very generally present at the preaching services, in some instances coming in large numbers. One church in order to encourage such attendance has an honor-roll for children who attend the preaching service.

Weekly prayer-meeting is held in forty churches in one Presbytery, while fifteen churches in that Presbytery report no such service at all. Many of the larger churches give no figures as to the average attendance upon these meetings. Nineteen of the smaller churches of the Presbytery of Washington City have an average attendance at their weekly prayer-meetings of fifty-one.

Our Sunday Schools are increasing in numbers—let us hope in efficiency and power as an adjunct or part of the church's training force. The increase in attendance reported during the past year was 550. One Presbytery reports that the Shorter Catechism is taught in all its schools, another, in all but three. From the other Presbytery we have no report upon this subject, but we take it, it is equally faithful along this line of instruction.

How far the "Twentieth Century Movement" has been taken up by our schools and what results are following we do not know. Less than one-half our schools, so far as reported, hold regular teachers' meetings for the study of the lesson.

Societies of men are increasing in number, but they are mostly of a literary or social character. In one instance, however, their work partakes of a purely spiritual nature.

Young People's Societies are to be found in a large number of our churches, but as to the standing of these societies and the work they are doing as compared with former years, it is very hard to determine. We believe it may be truly said, to quote from one of the narratives, that they "are rendering fairly good service to their churches and to their denomination; although the extra enthusiasm manifested a few years ago seems to have subsided."

As to the spiritual condition of our churches we wish we had more encouraging facts to report. We trust that the encouragement is in the churches, although it does not come to us in tangible form. The old term "revival" seems to have slipped very largely, if not entirely, out of the vocabulary of our church life. As a result, in almost painful monotony, the Presbyteries report that in none of their churches has there been any unusual religious interest. While in many cases there has been unmistakable evidence of the deepening of the spiritual life, it is very clear that there has not been that enlargement which should follow the faithful ministration of the word, with careful practice of what has been heard. Let us name some figures which may be rather surprising, if not already known to you all. There were added to the churches of this Synod, as per report made to the General Assembly meeting in May 1899, 1,142 persons. In the year ending last April the number reported upon examination, was 1,144, a gain or increase of two persons within the bounds of the Synod. Upon the basis of the net gain made by the church as a whole, our net gain should have been 59, so that our additions upon examination were only one-thirtieth of the average of the whole church. Wherefore this slow growth?

I am well aware that figures are not always to be depended upon, for they tell some strange tales. As an example let me say further, that, notwithstanding the figures, to which we have already referred as being so small, and the gain by certificate was 124; the dismissals and deaths, 1,331; yet the gain reported in membership was 620. There are more mathematics in these figures than can be grasped by the minds of your committee. If they betoken growth in spirituality, and perhaps they do, it is certainly of a peculiar kind? The largest numbers of accessions to one church in the Presbytery of Washington City was to the New York Avenue Church, which reports 52 additions upon examination; in the Presbytery of Baltimore we find the next highest number reported from the Lonaconing Church, the number being 45, and the largest number in the Presbytery of New Castle was in the Head of Christiana Church, where 27 were received. Still, as we have said there has been a growth for which we are grateful, but it has been so slow as to lead us to seriously inquire, why it has not been greater?

Benevolences appear to be quite well sustained in all the churches. Contributions are made to all the Boards of the church, except in the case of some very small country churches where there is no regular pastor or preaching service. The subject of benevolence in our Synod, as set forth in the report made to our last General Assembly, may admit of some study. As compared with the preceeding year the contributions to the Board of Home Missions fell off $1,480, and this, notwithstanding special efforts along this line. Foreign Missions gained $1,312; Education gained $549; Sabbath School Work lost $250; Church Erection gained $424; Ministerial Relief lost $154; Freedmen gained $1,285; College Aid lost $260; and congregational expenses increased, or the gifts for this purpose advanced $70,521. Studying between the figures as here given we find that while in the matter of church work and home expenditure, there has been a most gratifying increase, in the case of four of our important Boards, there has been a loss of over $2,000. This is to be offset by a gain of over $3,700 in the case of the other four Boards, making a net gain of over $1,600, an average of less than six cents per member, while the increase for congregational purpose has averaged $2.75 per member. It appears to your committee that there is a disproportion here which is out of keeping with the comparative demands of these respective causes. And it would appear that the grace of giving is not cultivated as it should be, especially as it relates to these most worthy benevolent objects of our church.

Financial obligations are reported to be faithfully met, for which all ministers should be grateful.

There is a widely expressed fear that the family altar has fallen into disuse in far too many instances, and that the training of children in the things which will educate them God-ward, is left to other agencies than the home circle. Reports made to the various committees upon this all-important subject are very vague and indefinite. But from what is said, we cannot but think there is too wide-spread omission of that beautiful scene in the home life, which Burns so graphically pictures when—

*“Kneeling down to Heaven’s Eternal King,
The saint, the father, and the husband prays.”*

Still in the reports that have come to us, we find rays of hope and notes of cheer. There has been faithful preaching of the word on the part of our ministry, and it has reached and benefited many lives. There has been patient and true teaching of the word in the Sabbath School, and in some homes. And the children of the covenant are coming into the larger fold of the church life. The church as a whole has been and is giving more attention to the manifold ministry of the Holy Spirit. There has been such largeness of gifts, and such consecration of lives as to urge us to strive to throw new vigor into the running of that part of our race which is yet set before us.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. C. ALEXANDER.

NEW WINDSOR COLLEGE.

Your committee would respectfully report that few changes have taken place during the past year in the Trustees and Faculty. That the graduating class of 1900 consisted of seven persons, one of whom is a candidate for the gospel ministry. That the receipts for current expenses somewhat exceeded the expenditures, and that some further improvements have been made upon the property. The only real bar to progress is the maturing this fall of the one claim against the college of $5,444, to pay which the Presbytery of Baltimore is now devoting its energies through a recently appointed committee, of which Elder R. H. Smith is chairman.

WILSON COLLEGE.

The Committee appointed to visit Wilson College made the following report, which was accepted:

Your Committee to visit Wilson College would report that in November, 1899, two members of the Committee visited that institution. We were the guests during our visit of the president, the Rev. Samuel A. Martin, D. D., in his well-appointed and beautifully located home. We found everything about the institution in a most flourishing and prosperous condition. During the summer previous to our visit a large and commodious Senior Hall had been erected and equipped. The new Science Hall was occupied and provided with the needed instruments and equipments for most thorough study in the sciences. Work was being begun on the enlargement of the gymnasium, but instead of its being enlarged, it has been replaced by a new one in its entirety, which is the equal of that to be found at any similar institution in the country.

We made a thorough inspection of the method and system of the college work. We were greatly pleased to find the study of the Bible given a prominent place in the college curriculum, and that the department is under the personal charge of the president himself.

The morning prayer service was attended by all the students, and was an orderly, devout and most appropriate beginning for the day's work. We were impressed with the deliberateness with which this part of the day's duties was engaged in. There was no haste as though it was a mere doing of what was required, but time and regard was duly paid to all that was being done as though all felt it was an act of worship, as it was intended to be.

After leaving the Chapel we went the rounds of the various class rooms finding the department of sciences, furnished with the most modern appliances, the art room displaying on every hand the touches of undoubted skill, the English, History, Greek, Latin and Mathematical professors handling their various subjects with masterly hands, or perhaps we should say brain power, and this not because they had been notified of our expected visit, for none knew when they might expect us. We visited the musical department, to find every facility in the line of instrumental advantage and efficient instructors, such as to convince us that this department occupied a leading place in the work being done in the college.

We inspected the dormitories, and the various departments of the main college building, which we might call the seat of administration. We were shown through the kitchen, the pantry, the laundry, to find they were clean and attractive, and fitted with the best sanitary appliances to promote the general good health of all concerned. We ended our tour in the spacious dining room, where with the entire student body living in the college we partook of a most excellent dinner, which for variety and abundance would have satisfied anyone. After a delightful ride through the rich farming region surrounding the town of Chambersburg, we came away, greatly pleased and with the assurance that in Wilson College the Presbyterians of our section have a most excellent institution to which they can send their daughters for their higher education, and preparation for the duties of life.

We would not have any one suppose for a moment that we did not find anything at Wilson College to criticise. When we learned of the lack of funds for the prosecution of the work which it is so admirably doing, of the want of buildings, we could not but criticise, not the immediate management of the college, but our beloved church, which with all its wealth and resources, should expect such work to be done without furnishing the buildings and the endowment with which to carry it on. There are some things in the management of the affairs of the college to which we might take exception, but we did not pay our visit for any such purpose, but rather to investigate the work being done there, and if we were convinced of its usefulness, commend it to the attention of our people. Our visit was of the nature of a revelation, for after our most thorough examination of the institution, we were convinced that Dr. Martin and his associates are doing a distinctive work, which should receive the encouragement, the prayers and patronage of our own branch of the church, for the following reasons.

First, because the religious element is made such a prominent feature in the instruction there imparted. The Bible as we regard it in our own branch of the church is taught, and as the basis upon which our Presbyterianism rests is emphasized. There is in our opinion great need of encouragement to those who are working along the line here indicated. It may not be known, but in some of the institutions where our young women are pursuing their higher education, the education of the spiritual side of their nature seems to be sorely neglected, and as a result those who come forth therefrom, while perhaps brilliant of intellect and filled with mental attainments, are wanting in that which we all know has a chief place in going to make up that which we call completed character. Too many young men and women come from our colleges and universities to regard the faith of their fathers with disfavor, if not complete disapproval. At Wilson College this danger is strongly guarded against.

In the second place the advantages afforded the student at Wilson College are procurable at a lower price than at any similar institution in our own church of which we are aware. And this low rate of charge is not procured at the expense of the things necessary to send the graduates forth, strong in body and vigorous in mind. It should, however, be impressed upon all that in order that these advantages may be continued, Wilson College should and must have a liberal endowment, for the building of new dormitories and the securing of the finest talent for its faculty. Today the institution is full to the doors, and there it must stop its work unless the church comes to its help. In this connection, while we do not feel that we should specifically recommend it, we cannot but think that it would be a work worthy the Synod of Baltimore, if we should secure within our bounds the money to erect a building at Wilson College. We get together at our annual meeting of Synod and talk and hear reports, and then go away, cui bono? Why cannot we do something practical, and erect a monument that will not be in cold marble, but in its shelter of young womanhood, and its help of it to a higher plane of attainment, will always stand proof of our fidelity to the cause of the higher education of woman.

And in the third place we would urge upon the pastors and elders of the Synod, and those whom they may reach with their influence, that in choosing a place where they shall send their daughters for the completion of their education, to carefully consider the merits and claims of Wilson College. Visit the institution, the president is always glad to see you, meet its faculty, do what you can in every way to aid an institution of which all Presbyterians should be justly proud.

ARMY AND NAVY.

The report of the Committee on the Religious Work in the Army and Navy was presented, and accepted. The closing sentences are as follows:

In closing this report, I feel sure that the earnest work that has been carried on by the ten Endeavor Societies at Fort Myer has resulted in much good in the way of strengthening the spiritual life of many of the men who are Christians, and has also been the means of helping others to decide for Christ.

I regret exceedingly not to be able to report more definitely what has been accomplished in the Presbyteries of Baltimore and New Castle, and that the work in and around Washington has not been more extensive.

Owing to the press of official duties in my office, and having served for three years as Chairman of this Committee, I earnestly request that I be relieved from further service.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. BIRD, U. S. Army,
Chairman of Committee.

The Synod expressed its appreciation of the services rendered by Col. Bird as Chairman of the Committee, and regrets that his official duties prevent him from further service in this capacity.

1. Synod pledges the cause of Foreign Missions an earnest effort to secure an offering, therefore, from every family in its congregations.

2. To this end, pastors will call to the attention of congregations the recommendations, all very important, of the last General Assembly; will also bring to the notice of the people, and seek to interest them in the varied and helpful reports and other published matter of the Board.

3. In view of the destruction of mission property in China and the extraordinary expenses incurred in consequence of the uprising, all the churches are urged to co-operate with the Board in raising a special re-establishment fund, in order that the Board may be able adequately to meet this emergency, and furthermore we pledge the Board our hearty sympathy and support in an aggressive policy not only in re-equipping but enlarging our mission work in China.

GEO. N. LUCCOCK, Chairman.

Secretary's Report.—It is never a gracious task for the Secretary to report a decrease in the contributions to Missions. To whatever cause this decrease is due this year, we trust that it will prove to be one of those backward steps that are made sometimes in order to get a firmer footing for a more determined effort onward.

The work of the Presbyterial and Synodical Societies has been substantially the same as last year, and has all been well sustained.

Five missionary teachers are supported by the three Presbyterial Societies, two in Indian Territory, one in Kentucky, one in New Mexico and one in Utah, and they carry thirty-eight scholarships in different schools. These are the special objects; undesignated funds help, as heretofore, to carry on the general work of the Woman's Board.

Most encouraging reports continue to come from Rev. Mr. Rodieger, the Evangelist to the Utes, supported by the Synodical Society. The steady growth of his church by constant accessions to the membership is a commentary upon his faithfulness, and his effort to persuade each of his members to contribute fifty-two cents a year to missions, might be emulated by congregations more advantageously situated. He reports a "good religious interest among the brethren"; the offering in his church on Children's Day for the Sunday School Board amounted to $7.15.

Our other Synodical objects were the same as last year—one thousand dollars to the general work in Alaska, and one thousand for the support of the Laura Sunderland School, at Concord, N. C. The success of the work in the latter school has been from the outset very remarkable, they seem to be blessed with the abiding presence of the Holy Spirit.

The Christian Endeavor Societies have had the same objects as last year; they have made a satisfactory advance in Presbyterial organization, and have been more loyal to our Church in the use of their funds, which are as yet divided between the Board of Home Missions and the Woman's Board. The Presbyterial Secretaries for Young People are doing very earnest work in the line of education in missions.

It is still a matter of regret to us, and we feel, a loss to the individual churches concerned, that there are churches yet in our Synod that have no Women's Missionary organizations, and we wonder that they are willing to go on year after year without this help to the spiritual life of the church. With the aid that might come from the forty or more such churches, more schools might be opened, and a new company of converts sent to join the small regiment of seven hundred and twenty-six, that from our schools swelled the membership of our Home Mission Churches last year.

In the hope of larger results in the future, this report is respectfully submitted.

NETTIE G. BRADLEY, Synodical Secretary.

FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Have any words been in more frequent use all this year than "Foreign Missions?" Preparation for, and the great Ecumenical council held in New York City, and the troubles in China have been the cause.

While our Annual Meeting was given up for this council, our reports were made as usual, and the result was satisfactory—that is, no debt. We gave $9,574.25. There was a gain in New Castle of $130.22, and a loss of $950.43 in the other two Presbyteries, caused in one by not having any special fund this year.

Baltimore reported $4,153.21, a loss of $892.49; Newcastle $1,446.31, a gain of $130.22; Washington $3,974.72, a loss of $188.72.

Two Presbyteries have made a substantial gain in the circulation of the magazines. Baltimore reported no blanks, and did not make a report of their magazines, (illness of an officer the cause). For the same reason all names of secretaries were omitted, in the Annual Report, but the other two societies show great improvement in this part of our work.

We support ten (10) missionaries as usual. Of all the scholarships taken we have 22 in Syria, the largest number, and in distracted China 17.

In this Presbytery a box was sent to a medical missionary, and we report the pleasure gained to ourselves as so great that we commend the work to you all. We called even the packing a happy duty. But before you send boxes to the foreign field correspond with Mr. Hand in New York, and it will be made easy and inexpensive.

This Presbytery reported 3 new auxiliaries; 2 C. L. E. and 6 Little Light Bearer Bands. A good report with increased responsibilities.

You have heard of the fund for the Christian Chinese who have lost all, and are in great need. This is a special object, but all of it must be extra, all other money is pledged. It should be sent to Mr. Hand, Treasurer of the Board, in New York.

Being so much interested in China, through our work, having our scholarships and Miss Lattimore there, we are glad to know the result of the Convention of the Boards of Foreign Missions held in New York on September 20.

"There is to be no recall of missionaries, but they should remain near China, ready to re-enter the field. There is no ground for discouragement about Christian effort in China."

Our Mrs. Turner, in her annual letter, asks us to make our gifts reach the sum of $160,000, and we cheerfully undertake the pleasant duty.

The lesson for us—we can find it in the last letters from the martyr missionaries—our missionaries, our representatives, our martyred ones, the lessons of patience, courage, devotion, and great faith. How frivolous our cares and duties appear in contrast.

Let us deny ourselves that our work and contributions may increase, and can we not pray more earnestly for the conversion of those who were consenting to their death?

JOSEPHINE M. CHESTER, Secretary.

SUSTENTATION
IN THE SYNOD OF BALTIMORE.
1900.

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Permanent Committee on Sustentation

IN THE SYNOD OF BALTIMORE.

OCTOBER, 1900.

The Committee would respectfully present its Ninth Annual Report to the Synod of Baltimore in session in the Eastern Church, Washington City, D. C., October 17th, 1900.

Our reports do not vary much from year to year. Little out of the ordinary occurs in the experiences of the churches. All of the organized churches of the Synod have been supplied regularly with preaching. A few have changed pastors, but the supply has become much more regular and certain than in past years.

Forty-two men have labored in 53 churches. Nineteen men in 21 churches in Baltimore Presbytery; 16 men in 23 churches in New Castle Presbytery; 7 men in 9 churches in Washington City Presbytery.

STATISTICS.

The average attendance is reported as 3,218. Some 300 less than last year. Two hundred and fifteen have been added on profession of faith and 115 by certificate, about the same as last year.

Total membership is 3,232 and there are 4,635 in the congregations. Thirty-nine adults and 203 infants have been baptized. There are 55 Sunday Schools with a membership of 4,872. All have societies of some kind—Christian Endeavor, Home and Foreign, Aid, Temperance, etc.

The churches are valued at $205,150, and parsonages at $32,000; $28,682 of debt is reported against the churches, and $2,309 has been paid on church debt; $2,529 has been paid for repairs; $16,069 has been raised for pastors' salaries and $7,560 for current expenses.

BENEVOLENCE.

The following amounts have been raised for benevolence:

Sustentation.....	$406 00
Home Missions.....	719 00
Education.....	90 00
Foreign Missions.....	947 00
Publication.....	261 00
Church Erection...	121 00
Ministerial Relief.....	115 00
Freedmen.....	97 00
Aid for Colleges.....	68 00
Other Benevolence.....	409 00
	$3,233 00

This is about $300 more than last year.

These aided churches are scattered all over the Synod. In the Presbytery of Washington City there are nine churches, all of which are promising and making progress toward self-support.

In the Presbytery of Baltimore three fields are in the coal region of Western Maryland. One of the comparatively new fields, about 6 years old, is in the important railroad town of Brunswick. The field in Baltimore county, which includes three churches, centers about the oldest church organization in the Presbytery, Mount Paran, founded in 1715. Four are among colored people, two in Baltimore and two in Anne Arundel county. One church assisted is that in Annapolis, important as coming in contact with the Naval Academy students. Another very important work is that among the Bohemians in Baltimore, and is full of encouragement.

In New Castle Presbytery three churches are in Wilmington, one among the colored people. The other two are well situated in growing parts of the city and will soon come to self-support. The others are scattered all over the Peninsula, and will in all probability have to be aided indefinitely. Some are among the oldest churches in the Presbytery with an interesting and noble history. All have church buildings in good repair and out of debt, and some have a manse. Little bands of devoted Christians gather in them from Sabbath to Sabbath, and we can never desert them.

Sustentation has proved a great blessing to all these churches throughout the Synod, and no one thinks of going back to the old mode of administration.

Our reserve fund has been so greatly diminished that we must have much larger contributions to Sustentation or give up some of the work. The object of Sustentation was to eventually do all the Mission Work in the Synod, and let the contribution to Home Missions go to work beyond our bounds.

But while we paid $7,240 to the Board of Home Missions last year for evangelization, we drew out $4,300 for our own work. Thus the whole Synod only gave $2,940 for Home Mission work beyond our own bounds.

The Synod, however, gave $9,721.91 to the School Work of the Board of Home Missions.

The Twentieth Century celebration ought to give an impetus to our Synodical work.

One suggestion is that all church debts should be paid, and start the new Century with a clear balance sheet. The debts on these aided churches is reported as $28,682, but the greater part of it is on a few churches with comparatively new buildings. Most of these churches, by a little effort, can easily pay their debts. In Washington City the only church reporting a debt is Manassas, $240.

In Baltimore Presbytery, Annapolis reports a debt of $1,400; Bohemian, $300; Brunswick, $200; Grace, $600;

Frostburg, $2,200; Ridgeley Street, $3,000; Highland, $1,100, Covenant. $476; and Sparrow's Point, $8,000.

In New Castle Presbytery the only debts of consequence are East Lake, $2,950, and Olivet, $8,000.

If some interest could be awakened and these debts paid, most of these churches would soon become self-supporting, or at least draw much less from Sustentation—certainly to the extent of the interest they must now pay.

Then, if possible, every field ought to have a Manse.

In order to fully provide for the Mission work in the Synod, we applied to the Board of Home Missions for $4,300 and have received it.

Your Committee earnestly desire the co-operation of all our churches and of all who desire the welfare of the Mission

Work in the Synod of Baltimore to heartily sustain this work and give it larger support.

We respectfully submit the following resolutions for the consideration and action of the Synod:

1. That the experience of another year confirms the Synod in the judgment that Synodical Sustentation is the best method of carrying on mission work within its bounds.

2. That all the Sunday Schools in the Synod, which do not otherwise contribute to the fund, be asked to make special offering on the Sabbath before the 22nd of February, dividing it equally between the Board of Home Missions and the Sustentation Fund.

3. That the Synod asks that all Women's Home Missionary Societies and Young People's Societies devote the first meeting in March to the consideration of this cause, and to pray for it, and that they make at that time a special offering to it, or an appropriation for it from their benevolent fund.

4. That Synod recognizes with approval the general interest shown this cause by pastors, sessions and people, and directs all church officers, who have not been accustomed so to do, to present this cause fully and earnestly this year, and expects all churches to meet, at least, the full amount apportioned to them, as an act of loyalty, not only to the Synod, but to the cause of Christ within its bounds.

5. That churches taking a special collection for this object, are advised to do so in March, and all churches are requested to forward their offerings not later than July 1st.

6. That the pastors and officers of all churches receiving aid are enjoined to use their utmost efforts to reduce annually the amount of aid asked, agreeably to their promise made in the application; and the Presbyteries and their committees be directed, if necessary, to enforce such reduction.

7. All churches receiving aid from this fund are required to take up collections for all the Boards as a condition of receiving aid.

8. That the churches of the Synod should raise during the next year, not less than $6,000; of which those in the Presbytery of Baltimore should give, at least, $2,800; those in the Presbytery of Washington City $2,100; and those in the Presbytery of New Castle $1,100.

9. That the committee be directed to apply to the Home Mission Board, for sufficient additional funds in bulk, to fully provide for the mission work of the Synod, until such time as the direct contributions to Sustentation can be so increased as to suffice for the purpose.

10. That the Presbytery of Baltimore be allowed to draw $2,200, which may be increased to $2,500 in case the full apportionment of $2,800 is raised; that the Presbytery of New Castle be allowed to draw $1,500, which may be increased to $1,600, in case the full apportionment of $1,100 is raised; and that the Presbytery of Washington City be allowed to draw $1,600, which may be increased to $1,900, in case the full apportionment of $2,100 is raised; and that any money which may be received from the Home Mission Board shall be distributed to the Presbyteries according to the judgment of the committee.

11. That the chairman of the committee be hereafter allowed $50 to cover clerk hire and incidental expenses.

12. That the Treasurer be allowed $50 for clerk hire.

13. That this report and the Treasurer's statements accompanying it, be published as an appendix to the printed minutes of Synod.

Respectfully submitted by order of the committee,

W. H. LOGAN, Chairman.
